Crucial Meetings Held In Jordan; Ike Doctrine Demonstration by Youths

Former Defense Minister in Attempt to Form Government

By UNITED PRESS

Former Jordanian Defense Minister Abdul Halim Nimr launched a new effort today to form a coalition cabinet and solve the government crisis.

Reports from Amman said he met this morning with ousted Premier Suleiman El Nabulsi and the high command of their National Socialist Party to seek support for Nimr's candidacy as premier.

While the crucial meeting was going on this morning thousands of Jordanian youths demonstrated against the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East in the main streets of Amman.

They shouted "down with the Eisenhower plan" but there were no reports of violence.

Post In Question

Diplomats in Beirut, Lebanon, said the real key to the mood of the new government will be whether Minister of State Abdullah Rimawi remains in the cabinet.

Rimawi is considered one of the strongest Soviet supporters in Jordan. If he remains it would be considered a victory for the forces allied against young King Hussein. If he goes, King Hussein would be regarded as having won the battle.

Political observers in Lebanon believed Hussein had suffered a disastrous and perhaps fatal setback anyway in his struggle to remain in control in Jordan.

Similar sentiments were voiced by Egyptian circles. They said Hussein's firing of Nabulsi backfired into a victory for the Arab neutralist block.

U.S. Officials Confident

But in Washington U.S. officials said they believed King Hussein would ride out the crisis safely. They discounted fears the internal struggle would ignite a new Arab-Israeli war.

In other developments on the Middle East:

—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain said his government would make no decision on using the Suez Canal pending the outcome of U.S.-Egyptian talks now in progress in Cairo.

—Peiping Radio said Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser may visit Communist China this summer.

—French press reports in Paris said Britain plans to "give in" to Egypt on the canal dispute and described the French government as deeply concerned.

Four-day Week Top Goal for Steel Industry

PITTSBURGH (UP)— A four-day work week of 32 hours, with pay for 40 hours, has been recommended as a top goal for the steel industry in 1959.

Delegates of locals of District 16, United Steelworkers, meeting here Friday, recommended that the shorter work week with no loss of pay head the list of the union's demands when the time comes for signing the next contract.

Other recommendations were for triple pay for holidays, time and a half for Saturday and double time for Sunday, three additional holidays, a maximum 30 days vacation and a flat, across-the-board wage increase.

The additional holidays proposed were Easter, general election day and Veterans Day. Also recommended was a day to honor the union's late president, Philip Murray.

The recommendations will be forwarded to the union's wage policy committee for consideration when the present three-year contract expires.

Carnahan Asked To Quit Force, But Refuses

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Acting Police Lt. Allen Carnahan, who was shot and wounded in an after-hours club, has been asked to resign from the force and has refused, his counsel said Friday.

Attorney Louis Glasso said Carnahan told him he was "approached by certain officials and asked to resign."

"He did not name the officials or say whether they were police," Glasso said. "He is not resigning. We are going to take his case before the police trial board."

Carnahan, who has been suspended from the force, has maintained he was shot accidentally by Shirley Cavanaugh, 28, with his service pistol last eb. 24. Miss Cavanaugh since was committed to county jail for violation of probation.

The police trial board hearing for Carnahan has been deferred until he is able to appear as a witness. He is to return to a hospital soon for removal of a bullet from his thigh.

The dead were Willard Hollabaugh, 41, of Cochranton, and James Castile, 43, Saegertown. Castile died in City Hospital early today.

Hollabaugh was killed and five other persons were injured when his car collided with one operated by Charles Bucci, Meadville, on U. S. Route 322, five miles south of here.

The injured, all of Meadville, were in Bucci's auto and were brought to Spencer Hospital here. Bucci was in serious condition. The others were his sister, Anna Marie, 16; a son, James, 4; a daughter, Marcia Ann, 3, and Grace Maria Catalino, Marcia Ann and Miss Catalino suffered leg fractures.

Castile's grandson, Merle, 3, was in serious condition in City Hospital. Also in the hospital were Boyko and his passenger, Joseph Wojciechowski, 28, Cambridge Springs, who suffered jaw and ankle fractures.

"NO LETTER TODAY" — The song "No Letter Today", popular during World War II, was being recalled today as the Monessen post office and other post offices throughout the nation were closed because of cutbacks ordered prior to the appropriation given to the Postal Department in Washington yesterday. This post office window was closed. The lobby was open as usual.

Eden Under Surgery At Boston Hospital

BOSTON (UP)— Sir Anthony Eden was operated today for removal of an artificial tube in his bile duct.

A spokesman at New England Baptist Hospital said the former British prime minister was taken to the operating room at 9 a. m. e. s. t. The operation started a half hour later.

Lahey Clinic surgeon Richard B. Cattell performed the operation for removal of an artificial tube from Eden's bile duct.

The tube had been inserted by Cattell in June, 1953, to relieve an obstruction.

A spokesman at New England Baptist Hospital said the former British prime minister's condition was "good."

"Everything went off all right," he said.

Eden entered the operating room at 9:05 a.m. e.s.t. and the operation started shortly afterwards. He was wheeled back to his hospital room at 10:45 a.m.

It was the fourth major surgery for Eden in four years.

The surgery was observed by Eden's personal physician, Sir Horace Evans, who flew here today from England.

Lady Eden Here

Lady Eden, who has been staying at a hotel here, waited out the operation in her husband's hospital room.

The hospital previously had announced the operation was scheduled for 10 a.m. e.s.t.

The tube had been placed in the duct to relieve an obstruction. It eased the flow of bile from the liver to the intestines.

Dr. Cattell said medical studies by Dr. John W. Norcross indicated the tube may be the cause of Eden's recent fever attacks.

The hospital bulletin issued Friday did not give the exact nature of Eden's present ailment, possibly because it will not be known until the operation is completed.

Eden cut short an extended vacation in New Zealand with his wife, the former Clarissa Churchill, a niece of Sir Winston Churchill, to seek medical aid here. He has been at the new England Baptist Hospital since last Sunday.

Mrs. Kossar suffered bruises about the knee. Hancock, it was said, was not hurt.

The Kossar machine was traveling north on Third St. and the truck east on Schoonmaker Ave. when the accident occurred. There was snow on the ground at the time.

Meeting Today To Avert Steel Railroad Strike

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Last ditch negotiations were underway today in an effort to head off a strike of United Steelworkers against the Union Railroad scheduled for 7 a.m. Monday.

USW District 15 Director John R. Sullivan said company and union representatives were meeting at Penn-Lincoln Hotel, Wilkinsburg, with Leverett Edwards, of Washington, a member of the Railway Mediation Board.

Sullivan declined to comment if any progress had been made in meetings Friday night.

"So long as talks continue there's hope for settlement," Sullivan said.

A strike would involve 1,500 maintenance workers employed by the railroad which is a U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiary. Ultimately, a walkout would affect about 30,000 steelworkers in the Monongahela Valley corporation plants located in Homestead, Duquesne, Clairton, Braddock, West Mifflin and Rankin.

U.S. Steel said four blast furnaces would be banked by 5 a.m. Sunday and by deadline Monday 22 blast furnaces would be out of operation.

The union demands a wage and pension agreement for the railroaders similar to one granted production workers last summer. The railroad wants a settlement based on an agreement negotiated recently for the rail industry.

Woman Injured; Struck by Auto

Mrs. Viola Smith, of 25 Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen, was injured slightly late yesterday morning when struck by a car at the intersection of First St. and Schoonmaker Ave., police said today.

Mrs. Smith suffered bruises of the left hip, knee and ankle, it was said.

Mrs. Smith was attempting to cross the intersection when she was struck by a car operated by Anthony Onufer, of R. D. 2, Belle Vernon.

Postal Cutback Goes Into Effect; No Mail Deliveries 'til Monday

They Know What The Score Is!

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Federation of Postal Clerks today distributed a press release calling for an end to postal cuts.

Stapled to the release was a note that said:

"The attached release is being sent you by special delivery mail due to the elimination of Saturday postal service in the hope that it will reach you before next week."

Two Teamsters Are Indicted on Extortion Charge

PITTSBURGH (UP)— A federal grand jury Friday indicted two members of Teamsters Local 249 on charges of extorting money from trucking firms in Pennsylvania and Ohio by beating drivers and threatening company officials.

John J. Sweeney, 33, and George Nicholas, 39, both of Pittsburgh, were indicted under the Hoggs Anti-Racketeering Act.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Hubert I. Teitelbaum said Sweeney arranged for Nicholas to unload all trucks of the Johns Trucking Co. of Philadelphia, and the Hirt Trucking Co., of Fremont, Ohio. Sweeney would be paid from $17.80 to $18.40 for unloading a single truck and an equal amount for loading it, Teitelbaum said.

Sweeney also demand a full pay for Nicholas even if the unloader did not work, Teitelbaum said.

Both men were accused of extorting $650 from the Hirt firm and $178 from the Philadelphia company. They also were charged with interfering with commerce by extortion.

Lewis O. Kicher, a Fremont truck driver, charged Sweeney struck him during an argument last year. He said Nicholas was not available to unload his truck and engaged another man to do the job. According to Teitelbaum, Kocher was slugged by Sweeney when he took the substitute helper to the Johns office to collect his pay.

Maintenance Man Denies Webster Light Faulty

An electrician who maintains the traffic light at the intersection of Webster Hollow and Donora bridge has denied a published report that two of the four parts of the light were not working on Wednesday at the time of an accident.

Herbert Schulz, of Fellsburg, said yesterday he was notified that one bulb had been burned out about 7 p. m. that night, several hours after the accident occurred at 4:30.

Schulz' son replaced the bulb immediately, he said.

A police report had stated that a faulty light caused a trailer-truck and car to collide. Each driver throught he had the right of way because the signals were not working.

Summerfield Says Cuts Will Stay in Until Law Is Signed

WASHINGTON (UP) — Only a trickle of mail got through today.

A drastic cutback in postal service ordered by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield because of a lack of money went into effect last midnight.

Not even last minute approval by the House Appropriations Committee of a 41 million dollar emergency appropriations stopped the scheduled drastic cuts in postal service.

Summerfield said he had no choice.

He said under the law his department could operate only with funds actually appropriated. Therefore, he said, the cuts would have to stay in effect until President Eisenhower signed the necessary emergency appropriation.

Curtailments Begin

Summerfield ordered the following cuts into effect as of midnight Friday night:

—Halt window service in all post offices on Saturdays. However, post office lobbies will be open and patrons may deposit letters and get mail from their locked boxes.

—Deliver no mail on Saturdays except special delivery.

—Reduce collection of mails on Saturday to the limited schedules which normally prevail on Sundays.

—Starting Monday, keep post office windows open only 8½-hours a day Mondays through Fridays. Each local postmaster will determine his window schedule to accommodate his community's needs.

—Starting Monday, limit mail deliveries in all downtown business areas to two a day Monday through Friday.

Starting April 29, embargo third class mail and end sale of postal money orders.

Nationwide Effect

The cuts affected every metropolis and hamlet across the nation.

But a post office spokesman said some 39 government agencies and departments including Congress and the White House will receive their mail as usual.

Postal officials also said the cuts will not affect the flood of last minute income tax returns which must be postmarked before midnight Monday to avoid penalties.

Moreover, the cuts were expected to be short lived. Congress next week was expected to appropriate emergency funds, ending most or all of the cuts.

Ice Jam Ties Up Freighters In Great Lakes

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (UP)— A 65-mile-long ice jam tied up 35 Great Lakes freighters in the St. Mary's River today and forced a halt to shipping on Lake Superior.

The ice jam, described by veteran Great Lakes shipping captains as the worst in their memories, prompted Coast Guard Capt. Ivor Kerr Friday to stop all shipping on Lake Superior.

Six freighters were still trapped today in the huge icefield in Whitefish Bay 40 miles above the Soo Locks. Eleven loaded vessels were in the ice off Whitefish Point waiting for the sky to clear before moving away from the jam and 18 ships were in the Lower St. Mary's River waiting for conditions to improve.

The ice field was described as 65 miles long, 30 to 60 miles wide, and three feet thick in places with windows up to 25 feet high.

Nine ships cleared the locks Thursday bound for Lake Superior but only three reached open water late Friday. The ice piled up to 20 feet as Kerr's Icebreaker Mackinaw worked to free two freighters in the giant jam in Whitefish Bay.

Northwest winds were blamed for the ice piling and the Weather Bureau forecast no let up in conditions as strong winds continued to push more ice floes to the narrow bottleneck.

Award Contract For Billet Mill

F. H. McGraw & Company, of New York, has been awarded a contract by Pittsburgh Steel Co. to install a six-stand (30-inch) billet mill and auxiliary equipment for the company's Monessen plant, it was announced.

The mechanical contract, which also includes the dismantling of a smaller billet mill, is in excess of $2,000,000.

D. W. Neville, vice-president of the engineering and construction firm, said construction will get underway immediately and that the new steel facility is expected to be put into operation "some time in 1958."

Bumper Rams Pillar

Mrs. Canzada Donnell, of 1000 Grant St., Monessen, was attempting to park her car at 1131 Schoonmaker Ave. yesterday morning when the front bumper rammed into and sheared off a pillar belonging to the Sheetz Hotel, police said today.

Packrall Papers Ruled Invalid in Washington

The nomination papers of Mike Packrall, of Centerville, for Washington County controller on a "Non-Partisan" ticket were ruled invalid yesterday by the County Commissioners acting as an Election Board.

The fatal flaw in the papers proved to be the affidavit which Packrall subscribed and which states that anyone filing nomination papers cannot also be a candidate for any public office at the ensuing primary election.

Packrall is a candidate in the May 21 primary for the Democratic nomination for tax collector in Centerville borough.

Packrall was at the meeting yesterday at which the Commissioners took their action, and although he did not object to the action of the Commissioners, he complained bitterly that he was not being allowed to run for two offices.

His chief complaint was directed at County Commissioner W. J. Lane who is also a state senator.

"You hold two jobs," Packrall said, "Do you think it's right?"

"It's legal, it's been tested in the courts," Lane answered in defense of his jobs as senator and commissioner.

"Do you think it's right?" Packrall insisted.

"I said it was legal," Lane said.

Packrall will receive official notification of the action of the Commissioners by registered mail in order to establish a proper starting time for an appeal period. Packrall, nor anyone else at the meeting, appeared sure of the period in which Packrall can appeal to the courts.

The Centerville business man did say, however, that he would probably appeal the decision.

This appeal, if taken, will probably question the constitutionality

Hypnosis Might Make Genius, Doctor Claims

LONDON (UP)—If you are a person of average ability, hypnosis might make you a genius, a British doctor said today.

Writing in the British Journal of Medical Hypnotism, Dr. S. J. Van Pelt, president of the British Society of Medical Hypnosis, said "hypnosis can reveal the brains that most people have but have not used yet."

He quoted the case of an artist who, under the influence of hypnotic suggestion, painted a picture in six hours which normally would have taken 70 hours. It was a picture he had been trying unsuccessfully to paint for 10 years.

Rachmaninof, the Russian composer, scored a great success with a concerto composed under hypnotic treatment by Dr. Dahl of Moscow, Van Pelt said.

"This is no Svengali-Trilby story but cold scientific fact," he said. He admitted, however, that not everybody can do these things.

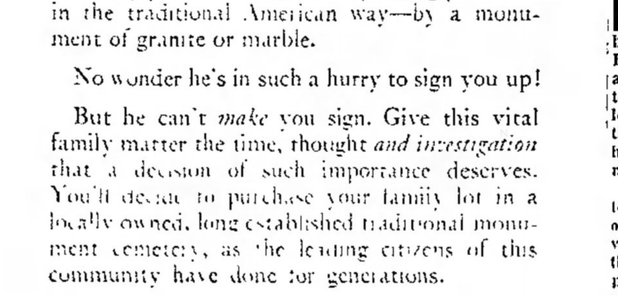
SERMON: "A REWARDING DECISION"

Let's take the mask off



HIGH PRESSURE

cemetery lot salesmanship

Specialty salesmen are now peddling cemetery lots door-to-door like magazines or household gadgets.

Anyone really concerned about your future would not try to sell you a cemetery lot like this.

Rather, he would invite you to inspect the lots available. He would suggest that you consult your entire family as to their wishes. He would want you to talk to others who could confirm his statements from their experience . . . your minister, a reputable funeral director, a leading monument builder.

The specialty salesman can't afford to do this.

His lots are in partially developed ground. His cemetery prohibits you from expressing your love in the traditional American way—by a monument of granite or marble.

No wonder he's in such a hurry to sign you up!

But he can't make you sign. Give this vital family matter the time, thought and investigation that a decision of such importance deserves. You'll decide to purchase your family lot in a locally owned, long established traditional monument cemetery, as the leading citizens of this community have done for generations.

EXPECTATIONS GREAT for REVIVAL

TO BE CONDUCTED BY

L. C. ROBIE

Sunnyside, Pa.—Weeks of prayer have been made by the church for a great move of God in the Valley.

The meetings are to begin Sunday, April 14, and will continue for several weeks, in the Riverside Tabernacle, located on Route 31, between Monongahela and Webster.

The Rev. Robie of Union Springs, N. Y., has been in the ministry for 36 years and has been used by God in a great way. Rev. Robie is a man of prayer, and has devoted most of his life to the work of the Lord. Countless thousands have found salvation, and now many are being healed through faith in God in his meetings.

Having introduced Rev. Robie to you, and given a brief history of his life and work, we ask that you come not with expectation in the man, but in the Christ he will preach each night. Come with your expectation in God and you will get the desires of your heart.

Come once, and you will come again. Special music, inspired congregational singing, down to earth preaching. The pastor, the Rev. R. L. Tharp invites you to these meetings, to be held nightly at 7:30, except Monday.

ONE FRIDAY

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.

Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean!

Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention . . .

Do you understand what happened that Friday. Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross. Do you know WHY He died. And FOR WHOM?

There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday . . . and the Sunday following.

Come to Church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Segregation Story—

Race Incidents, Problems not Only in South

(This is the last of a series on segregation)

By EVERETT R. IRWIN

CHICAGO (UP) — Here in the nation's second largest city, a 17-year-old honor student recently was beaten to death by white youths who said they were "out to get a Negro."

In Boston a Negro who defended his white girl friend against jeers of "white trash" was kicked to death. Five white men were arrested.

In New York the huge Negro population is mainly concentrated in Harlem and many school districtes are gerrymandered so that Negro children are kept away from white.

Race incidents and problems are by no means confined to the South.

The difference — and it's a big one — is that the non-South has a policy of integration whereas the South has a policy of segregation.

Many Migrating North

For the past 15 years more and more Negroes have left the South in search of brighter opportunities and integrated living conditions. By bus, train and jalopy they stream into Chicago 2,000 per month. Today two persons in 10 are Negro. They make up 11 per cent of New York's population, 15 per cent in Cleveland, 20 per cent in Detroit.

It is nothing like the 50 to 85 per cent Negro population of some southern communities but it is giving the northern cities some very real social, economic and civil rights problems.

Edwin C. Berry, director of the Chicago Urban League, said recently that 23 schools on the South Side "Black Belt" are "as segregated as those in Talmadgeland" of Georgia.

New York has made great steps in integration of theaters, parks, playgrounds and churches but segregation in private housing projects is commonplace.

Although Cleveland, with an 80 per cent rise in Negroes in 10 years, has one of the best records in race relations, an estimated 98 per cent of them still are grouped in one central area.

Detroit is a leader in equalizing job opportunities and today the Motor City uses only job fitness as a measuring rod for hiring personnel in department stores and in clerical, secretarial and engineering work.

Lack of Training Seen

Negroes in northern cities still dominate the so-called service trades—porters, waiters, drivers—just as in the South but there is growing opportunity. The Chicago Urban League found that Negro chances for choice employment are going begging, not because of discrimination but for lack of training.

Arnold Walker of the Cleveland Urban League says a number of unions there do not admit Negroes or keep them in less responsible jobs. New York has laws against discrimination in employment but many businesses have a private policy against hiring Negroes.

One significant thing is that public and social agencies in the North put their best foot forward on the race issue, emphasizing what is being done to improve relations but cities such as Chicago and New York cannot hide the dangerous situation of Negro and white gangs with a high crime and narcotic rate.

Charges Woman Paid Him in News Clippings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)— A Negro handyman charged in court Friday that a white woman employer had been paying him for three years in newspaper clippings instead of money.

Harvey Sparks, 55, said he'd been putting his unopened pay envelopes away for "a rainy day." When the day came, he charged, they didn't add up to enough to buy an umbrella. There were a few coins in some of the envelopes, he said, apparently intended a camouflage.

Sparks asked $5,000 damages from his part-time employer, Mrs. Sam M. Adler, and another woman, Mrs. Sam Jacobs, who his attorney said had acted as Mrs. Adler's "agent."

Both women were said to be out of town.

The handyman's lawyer, Jerome Phillips, said Sparks had worked at the Adler home about one day each week over a three-year period ending a year ago. He said Sparks didn't get around to needing the money until recently, when he opened one of the envelopes and found the clippings.

Soviet Charges Austria Violated Its Neutrality

LONDON (UP)—The Soviet Union turned its propaganda barrage on Austria Saturday charging it had violated its neutrality and become a camp for Western intelligence agents.

Moscow Radio broadcast an article in the Soviet government organ Izvestia charging "short-sighted politicians" had turned Austria into a "transit base for Fascist program makers and mercenaries of the Westtrn intelligence service."

Moscow Radio also announced that Norway gave to the Soviet government today an answer to Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letter threatening Norway with "obliteration" if it permitted itself to become an atomic base in a future war against Russia.

The broadcast said the Norwegian ambassador handed the answer from Norwegian Premier Einer Gerhardsen to Bulganin.

Substance of the note was not disclosed. Bulganin sent a similar letter to Denmark but the Copenhagen government has not yet answered it.

The blast against Austria was the latest in a Soviet campaign that has raked nearly every Western European nation and some North African and Middle Eastern states in the last 11 days.

Firemen's Fund Must Be Audited

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Justice Department has ruled that the state auditor general is required to audit the accounts and records of firemen's relief fund associations which receive a state tax refund.

The opinion, requested by Auditor General Charles R. Barber, reversed an informal Justice Department ruling handed down July 10, 1941.

The firemen's groups receive the entire net amount from the 2 per cent tax paid upon earnings by foreign fire insurance companies. The money is paid by the state treasurer to municipalities, which in turn relay them to the firemen's association.

Sheriff Candidate Arrested in Raid

ERIE, Pa. (UP)—Arthur Jackson, 41, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Erie County sheriff, and Walter Grove, 61, were arrested in a raid by state liquor agents at the Erie Press Club early Saturday.

Jackson, club manager, and Grove were booked at city jail. No charges were filed pending a conference between liquor board officials and city police.

Two liquor agents said they found a blackjack game in progress when they raided the club at 6 a.m. The agents called police for assistance but when the officers arrived they found no evidence of gambling and refused to file charges.

CLOTHNG COLLECTED FOR NEEDY PERSONS — Monessen public school children this week conducted a drive for usable clothing for needy persons in the United States and foreign countries. The drive was part of the "World Clothing Week" held throughout the nation's schools. These members of the committee are bundling up the clothes in the High School gymnasium.

Pilgrims Converge on Rome

VATICAN CITY (UP) — Thousands of pilgrims converged on Rome Saturday for the start of Holy Week, the most solemn period of the Christian year.

Despite poor traveling weather over most of Europe at least 50,000 pilgrims from foreign countries were expected to break all attendance records at Rome churches in this second year of the revised Roman Catholic Holy Week liturgy.

Holy Week starts Palm Sunday commemorating Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. It will be climaxed with the joyous feast of Easter when the bells of Rome and the Christian world rings out the message of Christ's resurrection.

Pope Pius XII decreed the first revision of the Holy Week schedule in November, 1955, placing new emphasis on evening services.

Further minor revisions were decreed by the Pope last Feb. 14 relaxing some of the strict conditions governing the recitation of Mass in smaller communities.

Sunday, blessed palms—or olive branches in many places in Italy—will be distributed at Masses throughout the world.

Thursday commemorates the Last Supper and establishment of the Holy Eucharist.

On Good Friday, in memory of The Crucifixion, Masses are to be celebrated as close to 3 p.m. as possible under the new rules. That is the hour when the church holds Christ died on the cross.

On Holy Saturday the solemn Lenten period is extended to midnight under the revised regulations. It used to end at noon.

At the stroke of midnight church bells will ring out, ending the 40-day period of mourning and changing the mood to one of joy at the Resurrection.

of the amendment to the election code which prohibits a candidate who is running in the primary for any other office to file the nomination papers to be a third-party candidate.

Packrall showed a legal opinion of his own attorney which in effect agreed with the decision of the Commissioners in that it admitted that the present law prohibits the dual role.

The same opinion, however, claimed that the law does permit a person to run for two or more compatible elective offices at the same election if it is by way of regular nominating petitions. The inference drawn is that the prohibiting amendment clashes with the right to run for two or more offices at the same time.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower, relaxed at his country estate today, hoping to get in a round of golf.

But the weatherman predicted he wouldn't.

Eisenhower arrived here by plane Friday afternoon for a three-day weekend in the country. Hardly two hours before he landed the bright spring day was turned into chill rawness by a cold front from the northwest.

The Weather Bureau forecast that drab skies would continue to hang over the Pennsylvania countryside today.

Eisenhower, who has been nursing a cold, was expected to stay indoors as he did Friday afternoon, if the poor weather continued.

Good Day's Work

A MONESSEN delegation headed by Mayor Hugo Parente apparently did a good day's work for the whole Valley in Harrisburg Thursday.

The group was able to secure, direct from Governor Leader and Secretary of Highways Lawler, an immediate go-ahead for some major improvements to Route 906 between Monessen and Webster. These probably will include a "benching" of the cliffs that overhang this road to prevent the dangerous slides which have made it hazardous and difficult to maintain.

This condition has persisted for a long time without anything of a really corrective nature being done about it, probably because the remedy is bound to be expensive. So if the Mayor and the other City officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives who made up the delegation have now succeeded in getting something done, the public is in their debt.

Governor Leader used the occasion to make some complimentary observations about the civic spirit which he has been aware prevails in Monessen. And he expressed appreciation for the businesslike fashion in which this particular problem was presented and in which Monessen, in general, is proceeding with its ambitious planning and redevelopment efforts. This makes it easier, said the Governor, for the state government to be helpful.

We are aware, of course, of the political implications of Governor Leader's comments. Mayor Parente, who holds an important state appointment from the Governor, is in the midst of a campaign for reelection. And it is usually felt that a local candidate is benefitted by favorable notice from on high. Some day, too, the Mayor may have a chance to return the favor.

But the Governor's observations have real point none the less. Monessen's ambitions for self-improvement are proceeding with fine spirit and intelligent direction, and if these continue, we shall discover many times how helpful it is to know exactly where we are going and to be determined to get there.

Betting Is the Issue

THE PERENNIAL effort is being made in the Pennsylvania legislature at the present time to legalize betting on horse races in this state. The effort takes the form this time of a proposal to authorize a popular referendum on the subject.

Although this paper has always opposed gambling, whether it is conducted by racketeers or a government agency, we see nothing wrong with submitting such a question to the electorate. In fact, this is the kind of issue, it seems to us, which needs a thorough public discussion followed by a counting of noses. Such a procedure seems to us much to be preferred to the behind-the-scenes lobbying which usually has occurred when betting legislation has come up in Harrisburg before.

The public should keep one fact clearly in mind about these proposals. And that is that they are not bills to make horse racing legal in Pennsylvania. Horse racing is perfectly legal in Pennsylvania and always has been.

It is the gambling on horse racing that is illegal. And the agitation on this question over the years has been intended to legalize betting, not racing.

It may be quite true that without betting, there isn't going to be much racing, except perhaps at county fairs, where the betting, we're told, is conducted unofficially under the grandstand.

Nevertheless, from the standpoint of public policy, the distinction is a pertinent one. The real issue is betting, not horse-racing, and the decision should be made clearly — when and if it is made -- on that issue.

The Norman Case

THE CANADIAN government, it seems to us, has been putting on a bit too thick its protests to the United States following the suicide of the Canadian Ambassador to Egypt, E. Herbert Norman.

Mr. Norman jumped out of a window in Cairo, and everybody seems to assume that he did so because a U. S. congressional committee released some information to the effect that he had once been a Communist. Canada says it had previously investigated Mr. Norman and found the information to be false.

We all realize that our political processes sometimes send some clumsy individuals to Congress. They occasionally send a scoundrel, too, which is not to apply this term to any congressmen involved in the Norman affair.

But any man who is mature and stable enough to represent Canada in Egypt should be able, it seems to us, to bear up under political accusation, even when it is completely false.

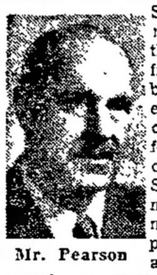
In our opinion, the American people do not need to feel responsible for Mr. Norman's suicide. He jumped out that window himself. And if anyone should feel guilty about it, it might be those who put him in a position for which he was obviously not emotionally equipped.

Merry-Go-Round—

Get Wheat In Canada, Poles Told

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Though American bins are overflowing with surplus wheat, the State Department has told Polish negotiators bluntly to go to Canada for the wheat they need to feed hungry Poland.



Mr. Pearson

Under the law, Secretary of State Dulles must certify that Poland is a friendly nation before it can be eligible to receive surplus food. This is a debatable point. Strong argument can be made that the people of Poland are friendly, and even that the government of Poland, though still Communist, wants to be friendly.

Dulles, however is worried about political reaction at home if he supports the Poles. Yet, at the same time, he doesn't want them to go back empty-handed.

He also knows that other Soviet satellites are eying the Polish negotiations in Washington. If the delegation comes home without western aid, it will throw Poland upon Moscow's mercy and probably destroy the present moderate government.

The Poles asked Washington for $300,000,000 in aid. The State Department offered only a tenth of the request — $30,000,000. After prolonged negotiations, the offer was finally raised to $75,000,000.

But more important than cash, the Poles need food. They have asked for 1,100,000 bushels of surplus American wheat. They plan to ask Canada for another 300,000 bushels.

Dulles is unwilling, however, to take the political risk. He also doesn't want to turn the Poles down publicly, because this might offend Polish-American voters in this country. Therefore he would like the Polish delegation — as quietly as possible — to fill their food needs in Canada.

Truth-seeker Rooney

Getting at the truth in a city where denials are as frequent as April showers is sometimes difficult. However, Congressman John Rooney of Brooklyn, Democrat, is one who believes in tracking down the truth.

When Clare Boothe Luce, glamorous ex-Ambassador to Italy, appeared before his Appropriations subcommittee earlier in the year and complained that the American Embassy in Rome lacked office equipment and had only three or four good stenographers, Rooney decided to find out if the lady was telling the truth. So he proceeded to cross-examine Deputy Undersecretary Loy Henderson, Assistant Secretary Burke Elberick, Paul Tenney, State Department Executive Officer, and William A. Root, Budget Officer.

Here is how he went at trying to ascertain the truth:

Rooney — I believe the lady said something about not having an electric typewriter, did she not? How many do you have in Rome?

Tenney — We have 16 electric typewriters in Rome.

Rooney —. How many dictaphones?

Tenney — Eighteen, I believe.

Rooney — I believe the lady said she had to bring her personal dictaphone to Rome, did she not?

Tenney — I believe that is correct.

Elbrick — I believe she said the dictaphone she used was her own.

Rooney — Yes, and at that point we had 18 dictaphones there in Rome. Besides you had electric typewriters at four of the posts which were within her jurisdiction — additional electric typewriters?

Tenney — That is correct.

Rooney — How many competent rapid-dictation secretaries did you have in her establishment, that huge place we maintain in Rome, known as the Palazzo Margherita"

Tenney — We do not have the exact number, but it is approximately 25 — 24, or around that number.

Rooney — As the head of the mission were those at her disposal to move around as she saw fit?

Tenney — She certainly could have moved them around to any place there was a need for them in the Embassy.

Rooney — And within her discretion?

Tenney — That is correct.

New Approach to Economic Aid

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The Eisenhower administration is at last presenting its economic-aid program in a form which is beginning to make an appeal to Congress and which is capable of making sense to the public.

The President never spoke a truer word than when he remarked recently — and a bit wryly — that the mutual security program has no "constituents," that is, no body of voters who are passionately for it because it helps them personally like dams, farm relief and a well-located defense plant.

Mr. Drummond

The fact is that military and economic assistance has always been propounded to Congress in an atmosphere of crisis and urgency and was accepted pretty much on faith and without much conviction.

That couldn't go on indefinitely. As the sharply declining support in Congress during the last two years has indicated, most Congressmen were becoming convinced that the American people were not willing to support such a program much longer. They simply couldn't explain it to their doubting constituents.

Aids U. S. Defense

They found that few understood that most of the money appropriated under so-called foreign aid goes for the explicit purpose of military equipment and defense support without which the United States would have to spend much more money on its own military budget.

Of the proposed appropriation for the coming fiscal year $2,400,000 is for military hardware and $800,000,000 is for direct defense support without which our allies (Korea and Formosa are good examples) could not maintain the level of forces necessary to guard the free world, including the United States. No more than $950,000,000 is earmarked for economic development and technical assistance.

Argument over foreign aid usually begins with a leading question like: "Why should we spend over $4,000,000,000 a year to help other countries?" No doubt many people look upon this as a $4,000,000,000 pie-in-the sky boondoggle when most of this money ($3,200,000,000) goes for vital military defense. On this point Admiral Radford, as chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, has testified:

"The military aid program is part and parcel of the U. S. Defense Department program. The expenditures abroad in support of our alliances do not differ in purpose, scope, or objective from our own military expenditures."

Changes Proposed

These are some of the reasons why the administration is proposing:

That all of the military side of mutual security aid — military hardware and direct defense support — be made a regular part of the annual budget of the Pentagon. (Sensible and straight-forward.)

That economic aid for development purposes and technical assistance be the primary job of the present International Cooperation Administration.

That most economic aid for development purposes be put on a loan basis (more liberal than existing government banks can permit) and that a revolving fund for this purpose ($500,000,000 for the coming fiscal year) be authorized by Congress so that the United States can assist under-developed countries with long range projects. There would additionally be some grant and technical assistance aid — all of which would have the effect of stability in the free world and enlarged opportunity for American business.

All these changes make sense. They make the aid program more comprehensible and will make its administration more efficient.

Program Backed

Every committee or commission, whether appointed by Congress or by the President, which has investigated the aid program in the past year recommends its continuance. The Fairless Committee, the I. D. A. B. (International Development Advisory Board) and the C. E. D. (Committee for Economic Development) — all manned by U. S. business leaders:

— Agree that foreign aid is in the national interest.

— Urge that it be put on a more long-term basis.

— Recommend that most of it be in the form of loans.

— Want to see private investment encouraged.

The administration hopes that this wide area of agreement among those who have looked at the facts first-hand may carry weight with Congress and the country.

Says Corruption Inevitable in Labor Unions

To the Editor:

It is very true that neither the United Auto Workers or any other union in existence in the United States does not have the machinery to keep its union clean of corrupt leaders and corruption. It is not the leader that makes a corrupt union, but rather the union based on a corrupt basis that makes a crooked leader. However, honest upon becoming leader, he will become crooked later on.

You are right (editorial, April 10) when you say the watchdog is not the right medicine, but you are wrong, and very wrong when you say that if the union had some outstanding citizen looking over Dave Beck's shoulders and thinking that such a citizen would have prevented him from using the union funds. If the union would have had such a citizen looking over Beck's shoulder that citizen would have accomplished one thing only, just looking over his shoulders and nothing else.

What About this 'One-Party Press' Charge?

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

It's come to be a popular research project in the journalism schools to investigate this business of the so-called "one-party press". And of late the journalism professors and their students have adopted some ingenious methods for determining whether American newspapers have been giving their readers fair and objective coverage of political news.

Obviously this activity is inspired by complaints from leaders of the Democratic Party, beginning with the late President Roosevelt and including ex-President Truman and candidate Adlai Stevenson, to the effect that, because a preponderance of newspapers have been supporting the Republican candidates for President in their editorial columns, they haven't been accurate and impartial in their news columns.

I've thought right along that, except for some papers which are obviously biased and don't pretend to be anything else, this charge was a lot of malarkey. Mr. Stevenson finally came to think so, too, and just recently Governor Leader of Pennsylvania went out of his way to say that the papers of this state have been reporting the news about his administration fairly and accurately.

Anyway, even if we had a "one-party press", so far as the editorial columns are concerned, I fail to see that it hurt Mr. Roosevelt very much, nor Mr. Truman either. And I doubt if any recognized political expert thinks the people elected General Eisenhower twice by overwhelming majorities because of anything the editorial writers said about him.

Can't Swing Elections

Nobody, in fact, knows any better than an experienced editor that he can't influence the outcome of an election except as he has the truth clearly on his side — and even then it's far from certain. And I say it was to the eternal credit of those editors who thought Mr. Roosevelt was wrong for the country that they continued to oppose him in spite of his tremendous hold on the electorate. We will be in real trouble if the press ever decides that, just because a man is powerful, either he is right or it is useless to oppose him.

But we were talking about these journalistic researches into the one-party-press charge. They become quite involved and detailed.

One professor whose report I saw recently had analyzed the use of pictures in representative papers across the country during last year's presidential campaign. And he discovered by some method I didn't quite understand that the newspapers had portrayed Mr. Eisenhower in more dignified fashion than they had portrayed Mr. Stevenson.

Also, the professor said, the President was much more photogenic than Mr. Stevenson and this may have produced more and better pictures, which in turn may have had some influence on the outcome of the election.

Just a week or so ago a couple of young Penn State professors published an analysis of the manner in which the presidential campaign had been reported in 20 Pennsylvania daily papers of various sizes. (The Independent was not one of them). I think the gentlemen used everything from slide rules to Univac to reach their conclusions.

They found that in these 20 papers (there are about 160 dailies in the state) the Republicans had received "more space and better headline display" but that the Democrats had been given "better coverage of campaign issues". This struck me as a rather fine distinction, but I will not presume to argue with even one professor, much less two.

On balance, the Penn State report found that these Pennsylvania newspapers had "reported the campaign fairly and responsibly". Which is a great comfort.

I'm wondering, though, if it is really safe to lump newspapers together in this fashion and then try to draw dependable generalizations about the press as a whole. For one newspaper differs as much from another as one man differs from another, except for those papers which are published by a common ownership. And it makes about as much logic to say that all newspapers are fair or unfair as it does to say that bald-headed men tend to love their wives more than men with hair love their wives. The fact is that some do and some don't.

So in a sense I fear the journalism professors have been taken in by political propaganda. I suspect FDR knew darned well that his one-party-press charge was phoney, because he was very clever at monopolizing the front pages with his side of a controversial topic while the other side was being argued back on the editorial pages to a far smaller readership in most cases.

One at a Time

Instead of these buckshot surveys, it might be more helpful if the professors were to apply their research techniques to one paper at a time. We could see some value in a professional opinion, supported by evidence, that this paper or that had failed to give its readers fair and accurate news about a political campaign.

But such a judgment would have limited value even so. Because politics is not an objective science. It is one of the most emotional and subjective of all human activities, and it is literally true in politics that what to one man is vicious bias, to another is eternal gospel.

The reporting of such an activity, then, can never be entirely satisfactory to all sides at any given time. And we can't think of anything more deadly, so far as our kind of government is concerned, than to have the newspapers begin to suppress their individualities and strive for an artificial "fairness" based on some measurable, mechanical standards.

I'm satisfied with John Milton's idea. He said in his great essay on freedom of the press:

"Let it (truth) and Falsehood grapple: who ever knew Truth put to the worse in a free and open encounter?"

In The Open—

April Is the Favorite Month of the Poets

By JOHN H. DAY

Throughout the ages poets have loved the month of April. The vernal ecstasy sparks poetic fire in every man who has the magic gift. April is one of the loveliest words in the English language — a happy, lilting word. After the cold, dark, barren days of winter, the quickening pulse — "when every clod feels like a stir of might" — finds sure response in the hearts of countrymen everywhere. Put April into almost any line of verse at all, and it cannot help being poetry.

The word April does not exist in a vacuum. A great part of its effect derives from its many associations. Oh, to be in England, now that April's there", came from Browning's pen, but the line plucks surely at the heart strings of Englishmen everywhere. This "water-colored" time of year, with sunlight "gentle as a newborn smile" touches the lyric instinct with moods both of gladness and sadness.

April is the initiative month. It opens the door of the seasons. There is youth and hope in it.

"From you have I been absent in the spring", sings Shakespeare, "when proud-pied April, dressed in all his trim, hath put a spirit of youth in everything." Again in Anthony and Cleopatra he writes "The April's in her eyes, it is Love's spring."

'Cruelest Month'

Tennyson asks "Can trouble live with April days?" Then along comes T. S. Eliot to puncture the facility of this kind of expression. In his "The Wasteland" Eliot shocks the unwary when he writes, "April is the cruellest month, breeding Lilacs out of the dead land."

Everyone associates April with weather, and of course the fourth month is the famed season of the "April showers." Here the poets have had a field day. One of the best, perhaps, is William Watson's "April, April. Laugh thy girlish laughter; Then, the moment after, weep thy girlish tears!" Here Shakespeare, in all his certain glory, speaks of "the uncertaine glory of an April day." And again Tennyson's "Tremulous eyes, like April skies."

Perhaps the best reason for having the month of April in the calendar is to have the pleasure of watching the greening return each year. Gray November and blustering March have their points, but to do without April would be to do without a glimpse of paradise. It is in April that the magic rendering of seed and sap within the crucible of spring begins to yield the budding trees and the flowering fields.

The romantic temper finds in April all sorts of outlets. Elizabeth Aker in her "April", feels an undertone of vague longing and sadness. "The strange, sweet days are here again, the happy-mournful days; the songs which trembled on our lips are half complaint, half praise." Again from somewhere memory recalls these lines; "This is the proof, this April testament that from the dark earth springs the secret seed, instinct with life."

April has surely been oftener on the tongues of the poets than any other month. Our delight now is in a few things. The drying road is enough, or a single wild flower. The countryman renews acquaintanceship with old friends among April's poets. With them his heart leaps up at April's enchantments. With them he asks "Is it so small a thing to have enjoyed the sun, to have lived light in spring?"

Pitt Athletes Are Smart, Too

Athletes at the University of Pittsburgh know their way around the classroom, too. Of the 262 huskies participating in various Panther sports, no less than 33 made the honor roll last semester with a "B" or better average. Heading the list was footballer Bill Kaliden, sophomore quarterback from Homestead, who had a near perfect 3.0. In three semesters, Kaliden has earned 13 A's and 1 B . . . Incidentally the second highest athlete at Pitt, academically, is Harry Suzich, a soccer standout from Belle Vernon. He has a 2.81 standing . . . And just for the record, none of the Pitt boys is enrolled in snap courses either. For example, All-American footballer Joe Walton has a "B-plus" average in pre-dental; while Fullback Tom Jenkins and quarterback Corny Salveterra both have "A's" in engineering. Basketballer Don Hennon, a pre-med student, has an "A" average.

* * *

Pitt and Penn State will play their 1958 football game on Thanksgiving afternoon, November 27. That show will open the Bicentennial Year of Sports in Pittsburgh, which will include the All-Star baseball game among other sports features . . . Incidentally Pitt will be playing its first Thanksgiving Day game since 1935 when the Panthers and Carnegie Tech battled to a scoreless tie. Johnny Micheloson, current Pitt coach, was the starting Panther quarterback in that game . . . Speaking of Pitt, more than 800 district high school coaches are expected to attend this morning's clinic at the Field House prior to the annual intra-squad game, which is scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m.

Pottios, Pentz on Weekend Visits

Charleroi High football stars Myron Pottios and Bill Pentz are touring the campus at Purdue today. They plan to motor to Notre Dame tomorrow for a similar visit. As yet the two huskies still haven't made up their mind . . . Three members of the current Monessen High baseball infield wear glasses; Shortstop Sam Thorpe, second baseman Jim Baker and third baseman Jim Barker . . . Speaking of baseball, Nello Tineri and his parks crew did a fine job preparing the Ninth Street diamond for the current schoolboy campaign. Tineri., working on orders from Councilman John Molnar, had everything in tip-top shape for the schoolboys.

Harry Stuhldreher, the former Notre Dame All-American, is telling all of his many friends in the Pittsburgh district that the Irish will be on their way back to football glory this season. Stuhldreher spent some time at Notre Dame during spring drills and was impressed by what he saw. The Irish will be loaded with juniors this year, meaning that they should be back at the top of the heap by 1958 . . . In Donora, the Lions Club is selling ornamental auto plates which proclaim: "Donora — Home of Champions." . . . There's agitation again to move the starting time of scholastic baseball games back to 6 p. m. to give more adult fans an opportunity to sit in on the proceedings.

Some Sentiment Against Redstone

From an inside source comes word that several valley schools are not too anxious to take Redstone High back as a Big Six member. Only one school — Monongahela — is actually on record as opposing the Hawks, but a couple of others aren't pleased with the treatment they've been receiving at Redstone games. Comments one school official: "Relations between Redstone and other valley schools were good as long as former coaches Joe McCune and Alex Barantovich were around to keep things orderly. That's no reflection on the present coaching staff which is made up of fine gentlemen. However the fact remains that relations deteriorated greatly the past season. It seems to me Redstone will have to give some assurances of better treatment before they are returned to full Conference status."

Fraley Sees Great Future for Anthony

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

A surprising number of smart boxing men think that young Tony Anthony is almost a cinch to defeat Archie Moore for the light heavyweight title when they meet probably at Detroit June 7.

These sources, which have no financial interest in Anthony, predicted he would flatten Chuck Spieser—which he did—and they insist that within a year he will be battling Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title. They tout him as potentially one of the best boxers since Joe Louis and think that the 22-year-old Anthony will grow into a solid 185-pounder by next summer.

In Dad's Footsteps

Sixteen - year - old Archie San Romani Jr., whose pop was the world's number two miler 20 years ago, will run the mile for Wichita in the Kansas Interscholastic Relays next Friday. The youngster, who has been clocked in 4:33, has been trained by his dad since he was a third grader.

Former Masters champion Bronko Nagurski Jr. Paul Harmon getting ready to shoot for a berth in the U. S. Open, recalls with a chuckle that his caddy had a comforting thought when Claude failed to qualify last year.

"Don't worry, Mr. Harmon," quoth the caddy. "Even the big monkeys fall out of the trees once in a while."

Mims The Favorite

Holly Mims of Washington is a 2 to 1 choice to beat 22-year-old Jimmy Beecham of Philadelphia in their 10-round middleweight bout from Miami on national video next Friday night. The odds sound right considering that Beecham is noted mostly for his poetry recitations while training in the gym.

All eyes will be on Bob Williams of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., at Notre Dame, Saturday. He'll quarterback the fighting Irish football varsity in its annual spring game against the "old - timers." How well he replaces Paul Hornung will tell much about Notre Dame's prospects for next season. The heaviest man in the line in front of Williams will be 215-pound And if he goes anything like his old man, they'll be happy, too.

MFL Maps Campaign For Funds

Monessen's Midget Football League formulated plans last night for a fund-raising campaign to finance the construction of an elaborate concession stand at Memorial Stadium.

The league hopes to erect the 90-foot long structure with volunteer labor this summer. In the future, it is hoped that receipts from the concession privilege at the Stadium will be enough to finance the loop without further public solicitation.

Alex Kachmarik, chairman of the building project, said the fund-raising campaign will be divided into three phases: a solicitation of clubs and organizations; a solicitation of the general public and a solicitation of industry and other sources.

The drive will begin a week from next Monday.

Material Costs

At a meeting last night in the Ravens Club, Kachmarik reported that the basic building materials for the concession stands will run around $1,000. It will take about that much more to supply necessary fixtures and furnishings.

The league hopes to secure volunteer labor for the entire project.

By contributing to this fund drive, Monessen supporters will actually be investing in the future of the Midget League," pointed out Kachmarik. With these concession privileges we will be able to finance the Midget League program without the necessity of yearly solicitations."

Worthy Program

In short, we're asking the good people of Monessen to help set us up in business, so we'll be able to conduct our worthy ML program without bothering them in the future for financial assistance."

The Midget League has been in operation for six seasons. It is a non-profit group. Absolutely no one connected with the program receives a penny of reimbursement.

However the league is still expensive to operate since Directors insist on the finest equipment available.

The concession scheme then is a painless" way of financing the program in years to come, according to Kachmarik and his committee.

Boros Holds His Four Stroke Edge In Golf Action

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP) — Sient Julius Boros, the big moose from Mid-Pines, N. C., who hits the par fives in two, defended a four-shot lead Saturday in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf tournament.

The moose laced par by five strokes Friday to vault ahead of the winter tour's top money winners with 135.

Defending champion Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs a six-time winner here, was in "shooting range." Swinging Sam carded a pair of 34's for a 68 to go with his opening day 72 to put him in an eight-way tie for second at 139.

First day leader Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., complained of his chipping and putting following his 71 Thursday which grouped him with the 139's.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., shot an even par 70 to go with his opening 69 for 139 along with Gary Player, Johannesburg, South Africa; Jim Ferree, Winston - Salem, N. C.; Gardner Dickinson Jr., Panama City Beach, Fla.; Trevor Wilkes, Johannesburg; Howie Johnson, Houston, Tex.; Ford and Al Besselink, Grossinger's, N. Y.

Irish Spring Tussle Today

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)— A crowd of 10,000 was expected Saturday for a final "home town" appearance of Paul Hornung when the All-America quarterback and winner of the 1956 Heisman Trophy directs the Notre Dame "old timers" against the varsity in Notre Dame Stadium.

Hornung, who served as a virtual one-man gang on Notre Dame's poor team of last year, has signed to play with Green Bay Packers in the fall. His backfield in today's clash includes Neil Worden, a star Irish fullback in 1951-52 and 53 and who set a school record of 29 touchdowns.

The annual spring game marks the end of football drills for the Irish until the fall. It will also serve as a preview for coach Terry Brennan's outfit which won only two games out of 10 last year.

Holman, Valdez To Meet May 8

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—Heavyweights Johnny Holman of Chicago and Nino Valdez, ranked 10th, have signed to meet in a 10-round bout here on May 8. The bout will be televised nationally.

Canadiens Out To Assure Title

BOSTON (UP) —The Boston Bruins Saturday held slim hope of capturing their first Stanley Cup in 16 years.

The defending champion Montreal Canadiens can wrap up their second straight National Hockey League championship Sunday night if they win over the fast-fading Bruins in the fourth game of the finals at the Garden.

Boston on the other hand would have to win four straight to take the cup in the best of seven series.

After winning the first two on their own ice, Coach Toe Blake's powerful Canadiens made it three in a row Thursday night with an easy 4-2 win.

Refugee Athlete To Marry Sunday

BRUSSELS (UP) — Sandor Iharos, the Hungarian refugee who holds three world track records, will marry his Hungarian sweetheart here Sunday. Iharos, who came here as a refugee last December, has been earning his living with Belgian clubs as a training advisor.

Canes Romp to Easy Decision in Wintry Setting at Ninth St.

Bellmar "cooled off" Monessen's upstart baseballers in a hurry yesterday afternoon at Ninth Street Park, pounding out an 11-4 decision in Section 17 play.

The pasting deflated the Hounds, who were feeling pretty good after a fantastic 7-3 victory over highly touted Monongahela the day before.

Actually neither side cared too much who won the game. The important thing was to get the contest over with as soon as possible.

The temperature ranged between 35 and 38 degrees. And to make the setting complete, there were occasional snow flakes.

The hearty Bellmar boys received brilliant two hit pitching from Conrad Lupori and Fred Mollard despite the wintry blasts. That hurling was too much for the Greyhounds.

Jump on Barton

Meanwhile the visitors jumped on Monessen's Dan Barton and Walter Jackson for ten hits. Even at that, the game was fairly close until the Canes shoved over five runs in the closing inning.

Bellmar opened the scoring with three runs in the first inning. Rudy Houseman walked and Bill Gardner singled. Larry Petras bunted successfully and the ball was thrown high over First Baseman's Carl Crawley's head, permitting Houseman to score. Tom O'Toole and Lupori both walked, forcing a run. An infield out tallied another.

In the third Monessen squared things. Dan Barton walked and Jim Baker reached first on an error. A fielders choice on Sam Thorpe's grounder permitted Barton to score. Mike Kunsa then doubled in both base runners.

Visitors Ahead

In the fourth, doubles by Houseman and O'Toole, plus a walk added up to a pair of Bellmar runs to put the visitors ahead again.

Monessen came back in the same inning with a single tally. A walk, error and Thorpe's infield hit did the trick.

In the sixth, Bellmar made it 6-4 on a single by Larry Petras and an error.

Bellmar exploded things with five runs in the seventh inning. Steve Raymond started the fireworks with a double. Bill Sowden and Houseman both walked to load the bases. Raymond came across on a fielders choice and Petras cleared the sacks with a double.

Houseman paced the winners at bat with three hits including a double. Petras had a pair of safeties, good enough to knock in three runs.

Monessen will play host to Donora on Tuesday. In other Section 17 games Monday, Bellmar will welcome Charleroi and Monongahela will go to Ca[illegible]

Here's How Jackets Postpone Games

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UP) — The West Virginia University-Waynesburg College baseball game, postponed three days running by rain, will be played Saturday, weather permitting.

A literate spokesman for the Waynesburg publicity office announced Friday's postponement with the following verse:

"By weather foul we've been idled thrice.

"But we'll play 'em Saturday if the sky get nice.

"We'll say play ball at haf after two

"Provided, of course, that there's no more goo."

Rochester Meets Barons in Hockey

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Deadlocked, 1-1, the Rochester Americans and the Cleveland Barons meet again Saturday night in the third game of the American Hockey League's world series" — the Calder Cup competition.

The Barons, in pursuit of their eighth Calder Cup, came from behind in the opening game of the post-season classic to rack up a 2-1 overtime win over Rochester.

The Americans, a freshman AHL entry, blew a two-goal lead in the second game and were dragged into overtime. Aroused in the extra stanza, they bulleted across three goals to upend Cleveland, 5-2, and set the stage for Saturday's game.

Fullmer Wants Four Ounce Gloves

CHICAGO (UP)— Marv Jensen, manager of middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, said Saturday he would ask the state Athletic Commission to authorize four-ounce gloves for Fullmer's title defense May 1 against Sugar Ray Robinson.

"Fullmer's a throw-back to the old time fighters," Jensen said "and they fought bare handed. So wearing four ounce gloves wouldn't hurt him, and they'd be small enough so Robinson couldn't hold him the way he did in their first fight."

Derby Candidate In Test Race

NEW YORK (UP)—King Hairan, a leading candidate for the Kentucky Derby, will be given a chance to test his speed over a long haul Saturday when he faces 11 rivals in the $25,000 added Gothan Stakes at Jamaica.

Based on his impressive victory in last week's Swift Stakes, the Florida-bred colt loomed as the favorite for the mile and one-sixteenth Gotham, which will be broadcast nationally by NBC. Post time is approximately 447 p.m. e.s.t.

Valdez Placed On Dodger Roster

BROOKLYN (UP)—Rene Valdez, who won 22 games and pitched eight shutouts for Portland in the Pacific Coast League last year, officially has been placed on the Brooklyn Dodger roster. Valdez, who impressed manager Walt Alston with his relief pitching this spring, will be used mainly in relief.

Jones in Close Win Over Vejar

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, who has taken to boxing's Gypsy trail, Saturday set out to get ready for his third middleweight bout in 30 days.

The powerful fifth-ranked contender, tired of waiting for a shot at the title, figures he'll keep trim fighting at a whirlwind pace just as he did riday night in a 10-round televised victory over the surprisingly heavier but less powerful Chico Vejar.

Jones, who was favored at 13-5, said Vejar was a "good fighter—good enough to make the oddsmakers look ridiculous."

Next on the agenda for the 29-year-old Jones, of Yonkers, N.Y., is an April 25 fight with Joey Gray of Flint, Mich. Jones outpointed Arthur King in Toronto, March 25 and so the Gray fight will be his third in 30 days.

Giants Peeved over Their Low Rating; Wallop Cleveland, 8-1

By MILTON RICHMAN

The New York Giants read the newspapers, too, and they're working up a pretty good lather over all those experts who are picking them seventh and eighth.

The Giants certainly didn't look like tail-enders yesterday as they licked the Indians, 8-1, at Jacksonville, Fla. Right-hander Ruben Gomez shut out Cleveland after yielding a first inning homer to Bobby Avila and wound up with a trim five-hitter.

Even some of the Indians have the feeling the Giants are being underestimated in most quarters.

"I don't know too much about the National League," says Cleveland outfielder Gene Woodling, "but from what we've seen of the Giants this spring we think everyone is picking them too low."

Senators Same Way

Washington is more or less in the same boat in the American League. Few observers see the Senators finishing any higher than seventh or eighth. Yet they rose up to defeat the world champion Yankees, 11-10, at Griffith Stadium Friday.

The Senators got to Don Larsen for seventh runs in the fifth inning and then went on to register the victory at the expense of southpaw Tommy Byrne when rookie Lyle Luttrell singled home Roy Sievers from second base in the ninth. Hank Bauer, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Woody Held all homered for the Yanks while Sievers and Luttrell did likewise for Washington.

Rookie outfielder Carl Powis singled home the winning run in the eighth as the Orioles scored a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati at Baltimore. Al Pilarcik homered for Baltimore while Billy Loes and George Zuverink split the pitching chores for the winners.

Meyer Goes To Bosox

Before the game, Cincinnati sold pitcher Russ Meyer to the Boston Red Sox and bought the contract of pitcher Raul Sanchez from Havana of the International League. Meyer, with the Cubs most of last season, had a 1-6 record while Sanchez won 10 games and lost six for the Cuban club last year.

Frank Lary and Paul Foytack combined to pitch the Detroit Tigers to a 9-2 victory over tht Pittsburgh Pirates at Charlotte, N.C. Ron Samford homered for Detroit while Harvey Kuenn helped himself to three of the Tigers' 16 hits.

The Red Sox jumped on Granny Hamner for three runs in the eighth to trip the Phillies, 5-2, at Richmond, Va. Robin Roberts pitched two-hit ball for the first seven innings but the Red Sox got two runs in the fourth on Frank Malzone's double and Dick Gernerts' homer. Rookie Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils.

Diamond Stars in TV Salute Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)— For those who can't wait for Tuesday's opener, there's a fine opportunity to see Mickey Mantle, Ted Williams, Stan Musial and all the other greats of the diamond in a gala "Salute to Baseball" Saturday night on NBC-TV.

The program, to be on from 9 to 10:30 p.m. e.s.t., will be televised in both color and black and white.

Gene Kelly, the movie actor-dancer, will serve as host for the "spectacular," which will include songs, dances and comedy skits built around baseball situations.

Celtics, Hawks in Pro Basketball Championship Tilt

BOSTON (UP)—The Boston Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks clash today in the final game of the National Basketball Association playoff championship.

The two teams, currently tied up with three victories each, were scheduled to start action at the Garden.

The Celtics were favored to win the seventh game in the best-of-seven series but the Hawks, elated after Thursday's 96-94 victory at St. Louis, were looking to go all the way.

The Celtics, who Friday blamed court officials and poor defense work for Thursday's loss, sounded doggedly determined to pull the chestnuts out of the fire.

"We can't have another night as bad as that one," Celtics coach Red Auerbach said. "Even our shooting was off. And how long do you think anybody's going to be able to hold Bill Russell down?"

Russell, who paced the Celts in the rebounding department, and has broken the NBA playoffs records in that department, couldn't get off the ground in St. Louis.

As a result the Boston team managed only 72 rebounds to the Hawks 83. Hannum claimed this came about through a change in strategy which saw the Hawks' Jack Coleman play most of the way at center.

Power Lost to A's for 10 Days

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—First baseman Vic Power of the Kansas City Athletics, who suffered a concussion when hit by a thrown ball in Thursday's exhibition game with the Brooklyn Dodgers, will be out of action for at least 10 days.

Doctors said Power will probably be released from Research Hospital Sunday, but should rest for several days.

Rutgers Names Backfield Coach

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP) — Joe Stanczyk of Glen Rock, N. J., assistant football coach at Columbia University, has been appointed backfield coach at Rutgers University, succeeding Frank Burns on head coach John Stiegman's staff. Stanczyk was at Columbia since 1947.

Pirates Take 9-2 Pasting from Detroit Tigers

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, on the last lap of their trip north, meet the Detroit Tigers again Saturday in the teams' "homebound" series.

The Pirates got a pasting from the Tigers at Charlotte, N.C., Friday. The Tigers battered four Pirate pitchers around for 16 hits and romped to a 9-2 victory before a crowd of 2,347. Ron Samford of the Tigers reached Nelson King for the only home run of the game.

Vernon Law, who started for the Pirates, suffered a slight muscle pull in his groin during the first inning and was pulled out by Manager Bobby Bragan.

Meanwhile, outfielder Roberto Clemente underwent an examination in Pittsburgh Friday for a back ailment.

Dr. Joseph Finegold, the Pirates' physician, said Clemente had a "muscle spasm" in the lower back region but "possibly" may be able to play in Tuesday's opener with the Giants at Forbes Field.

Finegold said Clemente "definitely would not be out of action more than four or five days."

Gonzales Still Pro Net Champ

CLEVELAND (UP)— Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, who defeated Pancho Segura Friday night for a fifth straight Cleveland Professional Tennis Tournament title, said he is seeking a legal decision over the tourney's promoter, Jack Kramer.

Gonzales said he is dissatisfied with conditions under Kramer.

The bronzed Californian disclosed he has placed the matter of a possible break with Kramer in the hands of his attorney. Under the current contract with Kramer, he has a five-year option agreement effective from January of 1956.

Gonzales' chief complaint with the Kramer setup is that he has too little time to rest between stands in the United States and overseas.

Athletic Awards At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (UP)—Three athletic awards were presented by Steubenville College at a student assembly Friday. They went to two Pennsylvanians.

Bob Zak, Midland, Pa., won the outstanding freshman tophy. Jim Smith, Homestead, Pa., was awarded trophies as the best defensive basketball player and best foul shooter.

Reporters Pick Yanks And Braves

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UP) —It'll be the New York Yankees in an American League "sweep" and the Milwaukee Braves in another close National League battle according to a United Press poll of 132 baseball writers.

Casey Stengel's world champions were the overwhelming choice of the writers, receiving 126— 95.4 per cent—of the first-place votes. Three writers picked the Chicago White Sox to win their first pennant since 1919, two chose the Detroit Tigers and one picked the Cleveland Indians.

Braves No. 1

In the National League, the Braves were the No. 1 choice of 61 writers while the Brooklyn Dodgers received 42 first - place votes and the Cincinnati Redlegs got 24. There were three first-place votes for the dark-horse St. Louis Cardinals and one each for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants.

The Tigers received one less vote than the White Sox for first place in the American League but a cross section of the balloting made them the choice to finish second. Manager Jack Tighe's team, which finished fifth in 1956, received 70 votes for second place, 35 for third and 17 for fourth.

The Indians and White Sox, meanwhile, both received votes for positions from first to sixth with the former out-balloting Chicago, 80-50, in second-and third-place votes. As a result, the Indians were the composite choice for third with the White Sox delegated to fourth.

Red Sox Fifth

The Boston Red Sox were rated fifth, the Baltimore Orioles sixth, the Kansas City Athletics seventh and the Washington Senators eighth.

The National League balloting reflected the wide-open aspect of the impending race with no team receiving a majority of the first-place votes. The Braves' total was 46.2 per cent, the defending champion Dodgers' 31.9 and the Redlegs' 18.2 per cent.

The Cardinals received 68.8 per cent of the fourth-place votes with the Pirates, Philadelphia Phillies, Giants and Chicago Cubs following in that order.

Weather Halts Play in Dallas Open Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)The rhubarb-marked Dallas Women's Open Golf Tournament made another stab Saturday at trying to get its second round on the scoreboard but more of the frigid breezes that wiped out Friday's play threatened a return appearance.

Rookie Ruth Jessen of Seattle and five-year veteran Bonnie Randolph of Maples, Fla., still led the field by one stroke after posting two-under-par 69s Thursday.

But both were floundering and had actually yielded the lead to Marlene Bauer Hagge at the 27-hole mark when tournament officials suddenly called off play Friday just as Mrs. Hagge's final foursome had turned the front nine.

Biting north winds of 25 miles an hour in 40-degree weather made play extremely uncomfortable and sent many scores soaring.

Those who had low scores were very unhappy at the tournament sponsor's decision to call off play and they made no bones about making their feelings public. The other however were just as expressive in their delight that the play was wiped out.

Most of them agreed however, that the round should never have been started in fact of extremely inclement weather. But since it had been started they felt that it was only fair to continue play rather than penalize those who were scoring well.

Ratterman Cut Loose by Browns

CLEVELAND (UP) — George Ratterman, understudy for former Cleveland Browns quarterback Otto Graham, was looking for a team Saturday because he failed to make a good showing with the Browns.

Coach Paul Brown, who put the veteran Ratterman on the waivers list Friday, said it was doubtful that he could make the team this fall.

Brown said he was turning the former Notre Dame athlete loose now so he would have plenty of time to go with another team before fall.

Opera Star to Sing for Redlegs

CINCINNATI (UP) — Baseball fans at Crosley field this season will be serenaded during each game by Miss Margaret Skanlin, a former light opera singer in Charleston, W. Va. Miss Skanlin will open each game with the Star Spangled Banner and will do two or three numbers between innings.

Bigger Engines Power New Buick And Other Improvements Made

You'll ride in a more powerful Buick if you happen to be one of the fortunate persons to own one of these great '57 models, sold in Monessen and the Valley by the Mon Valley Motors, Inc., 252 East Donner avenue.

A new, 364-cubic inch, high compression V-8 engine, the largest power plant ever put into a Buick, is featured on all 1957 models.

The new engine, which has a cubic displacement increase of 42 inches over last year, gives the Special one of the largest engines of any car in its price class.

This engine equipped with a four-barrel carburetor, generates 300 horsepower in the Century, Super and Roadmaster, with 10-to-1 compression ratio. This is an increase of 45 horsepower over last year. The compression ratio has been increased from 9.5 -to-1.

In the Special series the new engine develops 250 horsepower, up from 220 last year. The Special series engine is equipped with the conventional two-barrel carburetor and has a compression ratio of 9.5-to-1.

The maximum torque output is up, too. The Special engine has been increased from 319 to 380 foot pounds at 2400 rpm, and the power plants of the three larger models from 341 to 400 at 3200 rpm.

The displacement of 364 cubic inches, advanced from 322 in 1956, is due in part to lengthening the stroke of the crankshaft from 3.2 to 3.4 inches. The diameter of the bore was increased similarly, from 4 to 4.125 inches, and the cylinder bank heightened .25 inch. Rods on the new engine are .1 inch longer and the crank has thicker counterweights for greater strength and durability.

In other engine improvements, the fuel pump has been inverted to locate its head in a cooler spot and a vacuum booster has been added to the underside of the oil pump to provide greater windshield wiper power.

Intake and exhaust valves have been enlarged to furnish higher output and greater breathing capacity. Dual exhaust manifolds are standard on Roadmasters and optional on the three other series.

Newly designed mounting systems for the engine and variable pitch Dynaflow transmission are increased in area to accommodate the greater torque, and smooth out vibration to give the huge power plant the same feel of softness.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of my husband, Joseph Martino, who died three years ago today, April 13, 1954.
Deep down in my heart there's a picture,
More precious than silver or gold,
It's a picture of you my dear one,
Whose memory will never grow old
Treasured throughts of you
Often bring a silent tear
Thoughts return to scenes long past,
Time goes on but memories last.
Sincerely, Mrs. Hazel Martino

In loving memory of our dear husband father and grandfather, Ignatius (Ignatz) Billy who died three years ago today, April 13, 1954.
We live today with memories
Of days when you were here.
We miss you still and always will
Throughout each day and year.
At night when all is silent
And sleep forsakes our eyes
Our thoughts are in that lonely grave
Where our dear loved one lies
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Nick Lastoka, who died 12 years ago today, April 13, 1945.
You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore.
As time goes on, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Anna Cina, who died two years ago tomorrow, April 14, 1955.
What would we give her hand to clasp,
Her patient face to see;
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be.
But in some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.
Sadly missed by Husband, Daughter, Son-in-law and Grandchild

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Grabania, who died 11 years ago today, April 13, 1946.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
And still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way;
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren

They plan to make arrangements for about 300 people and the itinerary includes a trip to Radio City, a boat ride around the bay and many other points of interest. School Board Presents Budget; No Tax Change Is Expected

All members of the North Belle Vernon Board of Education were present on Thursday evening in Bellmar High School Library, when Secretary Clifford Breakwell presented the proposed budget for the 1957-58 school term in the amount of $168,004.40.

The tax millage was set at 25 mills property tax and a $5 per capita tax, the same as it has been for the past several years.

The only major change in the budget is that it is set up to include an $8,000 capital fund in case it is needed in the new building program in which an addition will be erected to Bellmar High School. This fund can be used in preliminary finances before the regular rental reimbursement is payable.

President Steve Ruby was in charge and a communication was received from J. Hugh Henderson stating that the amount of $1,002.02 was deducted from the North Belle Vernon state appropriation figure, since two local children are enrolled for specialized training.

A letter was read from William Hughes, Westmoreland County superintendent, designating the state reimbursement fraction for North Belle Vernon at .7778 and the fraction for reimbursement on the new building rental will be .7482.

It was voted to send the $300 annual contribution to the Belle Vernon Library.

All bills were ordered paid and members attended a meeting of the special building fund committee in the Vernon Junior High School.

Dorcas Class Elects Officers At Meeting Here Thursday

The April meeting of the Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs Rose Kimball with Mrs Ruth Harper as co-hostess, Thursday evening.

Devotions were arranged by Nan McGavitt, who used as her topic, "The Resurrection" and took her scripture from Matthew. She also read a poem, "Easter". Prayer was offered by Donna Van Bremen and all the members repeated scripture verses.

The calendar project set to start May 1 was posted to July 1 due to other activities.

Officers were elected and Mrs. Younkin was renamed president, Jennie Trich, vice president; Virginia Wells, secretary and Zelma Popp, treasurer.

The group will purchase a flower for the church at Easter and Ann Neil is in charge. It was decided to buy a service for 12 of stainless steel flatwear for the newly renovated church kitchen. Plans were made to remember the birthdays of two shut-ins this month.

The benediction concluded the meeting and a social hour followed. Donna VanBremen directed the games and prize winners were Jennie Trich, Virginia Wells, Marie Wallace and Mrs. Younkin.

The next meeting will be held with Elsie Benedetti and Alberta Brandon as hostesses.

Luncheon was served and each member received an Easter favor.

Anita Garibaldi Society Meets; Program Planned

New Treatment for Birthmark

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

You don't always have to undergo disfiguring surgery to get rid of a strawberry birthmark.

Scientists now say this bright red marking frequently found in infants is a benign tumor of arterial origin. And they have shown it can be treated in various ways.

This mark, which may appear anywhere on the body, occurs in about one out of every 10 or 12 births. Generally, it disappears spontaneously within a few months.

Occasionally, it grows for six to 18 months and then gradually begins to vanish.

A survey by the New York State Department of Health failed to show a single case among 4,892 babies in local hospitals in which the mark was present at birth.

In most cases, the investigators report, the tumor usually is noticed from one to six weeks later. This evidence, contrary to traditional belief, is reported in a recent issue of Cancer, a journal of the American Cancer Society.

Not all of these marks need treatment. But, generally, their disappearance can be hastened by controlled application of dry ice. Needless to say, this procedure must be conducted only by a competent medical man.

The larger growths may require injection of a solution into or about the artery to halt the flow of blood feeding them.

If such an injection fails to stop the blood supply of the tumor, the artery can be closed by surgery.

Question and Answer

Mrs H R: What would cause a swelling on the left side of my stomach which causes a feeling of crowdedness after I have been in a sitting position for a period of time?

Answer: From the description you give, it is possible that you have a hernia of the abdominal wall. On the other hand, the swelling could result from other causes, such as a tumor.

It is important that you have an examination made by your physician as soon as possible.

Godfrey Show To Leave TV

NEW YORK (UP) — Arthur Godfrey, the red-haired ukulele player, strummed himself off the Wednesday night television screen Friday night for the second time in a year.

The Columbia Broadcasting System announced that the hour-long "Arthur Godfrey Show" which has been on the air since Jan 12 949, will be discontinued after June 26. It had announced the demise of the show last spring but later reinstated it.

Another TV Giveaway Show Is in the Works

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim...

Another new giveaway show is in the works—this one at CBS-TV. It's called "We Pay Your Bills." The idea is for a contestant to outguess a panel. The reward—the show pays all the contestant's debts.

Hal March will take a six-week leave from "the $64,000 Question" after June 15 to make a movie, "Here Me Good," for Paramount. Ralph Story of "The $64,000 Challenge" will fill in as emcee.

Dick Van Dyke does a test run of a new show for CBS next Thursday in New York..."Your Hit Parade" added a fourth new singer to its cast for the fall—Alan Copeland.

Hottest rumor over at CBS is that Arthur Godfrey won't be back on Wednesday night next fall... "A Date With The Angeles," a new situation comedy with Betty Whit and Bill Williams, replaces the Ray Anthony Show on ABC-TV May 10.

Martha Scott, suffering from a severe cold, stepped out temporarily from NBC-TV's "Modern Romances" — Kathi Norris filled in...There's talk over at CBS-TV that Sid Caesar may shift next fall to that network.

John Cameron Swayze's son eloped... Virginia Warren, daughter of the Chief Justice of the United States, is being sought by Martha Rountree for a panel job on the upcoming "Leave It To The Girls."

Charles Van Doren, who signed an exclusive pact with NBC this week, was offered the job of Garry Moore's summer replacement, but Charlie was forced to turn it down because of his NBC commitment.

Small Ranch-Style Economical to Heat

When a family buys a small, ranch-style home, one thing they generally expect is that its compact, all-in-one-floor arrangement will make the house easy and economical to heat.

Many ranch-home owners however, have been surprised to discover that they were paying fuel bills as high or higher than their friends and neighbors with larger homes. Investigation usually has shown the trouble to be lack of insulation.

As shown in the "profile" drawing of a typical ranch home, insulation should be installed in the complete perimeter (heavy line) of the living quarters to be most effective.

Heating and insulation engineers usually recommend two inches of mineral wool for the floors (1), if the house is built over a crawl space, or a special band of slab insulation for homes built on a concrete slab. A three-inch thickness is recommended for the walls (2), and at least four inches of mineral wool is needed between the joists above the attic ceiling (3).

When mineral wool is installed according to these recommendations, fuel bills can be reduced as much as 50 percent, and the house will be more comfortable during all seasons of the year.

Owners of existing ranch-style houses that are not insulated generally can do part of the insulating job themselves. They can install batts or blankets of mineral wool in the attic and in the floor above the crawl space. An insulating contractor can blow the mineral wool into the walls.

Roof Line Can Make House Look Longer

One of the most successful design techniques of Ned H. Abram's prominent California architect, is to make a small inexpensive house look larger than it actually is by accentuating the roof line.

Abrams, of Sunnyvale, Calif., has accomplished this in the compact, ranch house, right by placing the carport at the front and sweeping the low pitch roof over it.

The house, now being erected in the rolling hills overlooking San Francisco Bay, has three bedrooms, and sells for under $12,000.

Achitect Abrams one of the San Francisco area's leading home designers, prefers asphalt shingles because of their economy, durability and color.

From the viewpoint of color, Abrams says he likes to use "natures tones", such as the deep brown asphalt shingles used on the house shown. "These colors come from the earth," the architect says, "and are more restful."

He pointed out that in California near the ocean there are few trees. "This is the reason we like to use deep colors on the roof. Light pastels tend to be too bright in California's intense sunshine."

Abrams added that in some mountain areas where trees are plentiful the light pastels of asphalt shingles are good. "A light roof color keeps the house from looking like it's cowering among the trees."

Other exterior features of the Abrams house are wood siding stained in redwood tones, a sheltered entranceway under wide eaves, and a covered terrace at the rear.

Inside, the wide entrance hall leads to a 20 by 15 foot living room separated from the kitchen by a snack bar. The kitchen is on the front of the house to permit ready access from the living room to the outdoor living area at the rear.

The overall design, Abrams says, was aimed at offering as much open planning and casual, outdoor-indoor living as possible in a small low cost home.

Enclose Porch to Get Working Space

This is a good time of year to develop those home remodeling jobs which can be done indoors. To get added living space, why not enclose the porch, especially if it is a side porch not often used?

You can get ordinary Douglas fir dimension lumber, siding and interior trim at most lumber yards. To insure maximum warmth in winter, it is best to build a stud frame wall with fir 2x4s. Use building paper between the outside sheathing and the siding.

Knock on Wood!

Iroquois Indian elders used to rub some wood article, such as a chair or table, before they left home to bring good luck to the household. The Iroquois would be pleased with the modern home because he would find wood everywhere, right handy for his parting rub.

Some practical minded souls have suggested that rubbing on wood paneled walls of Douglas fir, for instance, would in time give it a deep patina of incomparable beauty.

Wallpapers Give Cleaning Advice

Wallpaper experts give this advice for washing wallpaper: fill two galvanized steel pails with water, one with cool, sudsy water and the other with clean cold water; wet a few square feet of wallpaper with the clean water, then sponge with the soapsuds, stroking evenly in one direction only to prevent streaking. Finally, rinse immediately by wipnig off the soapsuds with a sponge wrung out in the clear water.

Prevent Accidents

Winter ice and snow can take their toll on the sidewalks around the home. A judicious sprinkling of rock salt or sand on icy sidewalks and steps can prevent painful injuries and possible lawsuits from serious falls. A galvanized steel coal hod filled with sand or rock salt may be placed near the back door for immediate use on icy mornings.

Don't Forget to Insulate Between House, Garage

If your house has an unheated, attached garage, the wall between it and living areas of the house may be robbing you of expensive heat during the winter months.

This is an area where insulation is frequently neglected. Heat escapes through this big gap in the insulation barrier and is wasted outside.

Heat often is wasted in similar fashion when living quarters are built above the garage, as they are in many split-level homes. If the garage ceiling is not insulated, heat gets away and floors are cold in the upstairs rooms.

Home-owners usually can stop heat loss in the garage area by installing mineral wool insulation themselves, using batts or blankets and a few ordinary tools.

The batts and blankets go in place easily between studs on the garage side of the wall and between joists in the garage ceiling.

In homes where garage walls and ceilings have been enclosed with wallboard, plaster, or some other finishing material, mineral wool can be blown in by an insulation contractor, forming a tight, effective barrier against heat loss.

The mineral wool also helps keep the house cooler during the hot summer months, since it blocks the passage of heat from the outside to the inside, too.

How to Clean Your Furniture

Upholstered furniture need not be slip-covered or dry cleaned just because it becomes soiled. Many upholstered pieces produced in recent years have rubber backing to make them easily washable and even those pieces without such protection may be washed if reasonable care is taken.

Proper equipment helps make the job easier and lessens the danger of damaging the furniture. The only equipment needed includes two sponges, one soft cloth and two pails, one filled with clear, lukewarm rinse water and the other with lots of soapsuds and very little water. An eggbeater will whip up thick soapsuds with very little moisture.

The actual washing of the piece of furniture is a job that should be done with the right technique for the best results. Gentleness and proper timing are important. Never rub a spot hard or for very long or discoloration, shrinking or stretching may result.

Wash a small area at a time, sponging the suds lightly in a circular pattern. Rinse immediately with the second sponge wrung out in the clear water to remove the suds and lessen the possibility of soaking the piece. Wipe with the dry, soft cloth to remove excess moisture. Repeat the process, starting just within the cleaned area to prevent streaks and to get equal cleanliness.

Using two pails for the job is important, since it keeps rinse water immediately available and speeds up the entire process.

Future Steel Buildings to Be Pre-packaged

CHICAGO (UP) — A producer of steel buildings believes that the skyscraper of the future will be a prefab.

Peter S. Pedersen, Jr., foresees pre-packaged office and high-rise apartment buildings, along with pre-packaged plants for heavy industry.

It could cut the cost in half, he said.

The president of Wonder Building Corp., said the idea of a completely pre-packaged skyscraper isn't as fantastic as it sounds."

"Ten years ago if you asked an architect to come up with a prefabricated commercial building he'd throw you out," Mr. Pedersen said. "Now you're seeing more and more pre-packaging in construction."

Many new buildings, he said, have been pre-packaged in part, for example, the recently completed here utilizes stainless steel spandrels or sections of siding in which the windows already have been set.

Pails Are Useful

Although the common scrub pail is probably the least glamorous item in the home, it certainly is one of the most useful. Nesting neatly one inside the other, several galvanized steel pails take up no more room than one and are always on hand for various chores
